II. INTRODUCTION

A. Risk Factors

Standard Risk Factors:

- Investment in Mutual Fund Units involves investment risks such as trading volumes, settlement risk, liquidity risk, default risk including the possible loss of principal.
- As with any securities investment, the NAV of the Units issued under the Scheme can go up or down depending on the factors and forces affecting the gold, forex markets and debt and money markets.
- Past performance of the Sponsor/AMC/Mutual Fund does not guarantee future performance of the scheme.
- Kotak Gold ETF is only name of the scheme does not in any manner indicate either the quality of the scheme or its future prospects and returns.
- The sponsor is not responsible or liable for any loss resulting from the operation of the scheme beyond the initial contribution of Rs.2,50,000 made by it towards setting up the Fund.
- The present scheme is not a guaranteed or assured return scheme.

Scheme Specific Risk Factors

Some or all of these risks may adversely affect Scheme's NAV, trading price, yield, total return and/or its ability to meet its objectives.

Risks for the Fund

- The NAV of the units is closely related to the value of gold held by the scheme. The value (price) of gold may fluctuate for several reasons and all such fluctuations will result in changes in the NAV of units under the scheme. The factors that may effect the price of gold, among other things, include demand and supply for gold in India and in the global market, Indian and Foreign exchange rates, Interest rates, Inflation trends, trading in gold as commodity, legal restrictions on the movement/ trade of gold that may be imposed by RBI, Government of India or countries that supply or purchase gold to/ from India, trends and restrictions on import/export of golden jewellery in and out of India, etc.
- Counter party Risk: There is no Exchange for physical gold in India. The Fund may have to buy or sell gold from the open market, which may lead to counter party risks for the Fund for trading and settlement.
- Liquidity Risk: The fund has to sell gold only to RBI approved bullion bankers and Canalising agents who are authorized to buy gold. Though, there are adequate numbers of players (commercial or bullion bankers) to whom the Fund can sell gold. Fund may have to resort to distress sale of gold if there is no or low demand for gold to meet its cash needs of redemption or expenses.
- Currency Risk: The formula for determining NAV of the units is based on the imported (landed) value of gold. The landed value of gold is computed by multiplying international market price by US dollar value. The value of gold or NAV, therefore will depend upon the conversion value of US dollar into Indian rupee and attracts all the risks attached to such conversion.
- Regulatory Risk: Any changes in trading regulations by the stock exchange (s) or SEBI may affect the ability of Authorised Participant to arbitrage resulting into wider premium/discount to NAV. Any changes in the regulations relating to import and export of gold or gold jewellery (including customs duty, sales tax and any such other statutory levies) may affect the ability of the scheme to buy/sell gold against the purchase and redemption requests received.

- Asset Class Risk: The returns from physical Gold in which the Scheme invests may underperform returns from the securities or other asset classes.
- Physical gold: There is a risk that part or all of the Scheme's gold could be lost, damaged or stolen. Access to the Scheme's gold could also be restricted by natural events or human actions. Any of these actions may have adverse impact on the operations of the scheme and consequently on investment in units.
- Impact cost risk: If the scheme is heavily subscribed and as all the subscription amount has to be deployed in gold over a short period of time, there could be a surge in the demand for gold which in turn may lead to increase in cost of acquiring gold. However, as gold can be freely imported, the demand generated, if heavily subscribed, by this scheme may get transferred to global markets and the demand of this scheme may not have any significant impact on the global level demand.
- As the scheme proposes to invest not less than 90% of the net assets in Gold, the Scheme is a passively managed scheme and provides exposure to Gold and tracking its performance and yield as closely as possible. The Schemes performance may be affected by a general price decline in the Gold prices. The Scheme invests in the physical Gold regardless of their investment merit. The Mutual Fund does not attempt to take defensive positions in declining markets.
- Tracking error may have an impact on the performance of the scheme. However KMAMC will endeavour to keep the tracking error as low as possible.

Risks for Investors

- Investors may note that even though this is an open-ended scheme, they will have to buy or sell units of the scheme at market price on the stock exchanges where these units are listed for liquidity, subject to the rules and regulations of the exchange. Buying and selling units on stock exchange requires the investor to engage the services of a broker and are subject to payment of margins as required by the stock exchange/broker, payment of brokerage, applicable statutory levies etc.,
- The concept of Exchange Traded Funds is relatively new to Indian capital markets. Trading in Gold ETF could therefore be restricted due to which market price may or may not reflect the true NAV of Gold ETF at any point of time. Also there can be no assurance that an active secondary market will develop or be maintained for the Scheme units.
- The market price of ETF units, like any other listed security, is largely dependent on two factors, viz., (1) the intrinsic value of the unit (or NAV), and (2) demand and supply of units in the market. Sizeable demand or supply of the units in Exchange may lead to market price of the units to quote at premium or discount to NAV. Hence the price of ETF is less likely to hold significant variance (large premium or discount) from the latest declared NAV all the time.
- Capital Gains Impact: Investors who trade in Kotak Gold ETF may be subject to Long Term Capital Gains or Short Term Capital Gains. Investors are requested to consult their tax/legal consultants before investing in the scheme.
- The Fund may have to sell gold to meet recurring expenses due to which underlying assets may deplete to that extent.
- The NAV of the units is determined based on the formula for valuation of gold prescribed by SEBI whereas the actual price of gold in the market may be different from the value of gold arrived at, based on the prescribed formula. This may lead to extreme conditions like NAV being far too different from the domestic market price of gold. In such extreme conditions, the trustees reserve the right to delay or suspend the redemption of units.

- The units will be issued only in demat form through depositories. The records of the depository are final with respect to the number of units available to the credit of unit holder. Settlement of trades, repurchase of units by the mutual fund depend up on the confirmations to be received from depository(ies) on which the mutual fund has no control.

If an investor has sold units, an investor has to deliver the units to the broker/sub-broker before the securities pay-in day of the settlement cycle on the exchange. The trading member would pay the money or deliver the units to the investor in accordance with time prescribed by the stock exchange regulations.

If an investor has bought units, he should give standing instructions for 'Delivery-In' to his/ her DP for accepting units in his/her beneficiary account. An investor should give the details of his/her beneficiary account and the DP-ID of his/her trading member. The trading member will transfer the units directly to his/her beneficiary account on receipt of the same from exchange's clearing corporation.

The details of the pool A/c of his/her trading member to which the units are to be transferred, unit quantity etc should be mentioned in the delivery out instructions given by him/her to the DP. The instructions should be given will before the prescribed securities pay-in day. SEBI has advised that delivery out instructions should be given atleast 24 hours prior to the cut off time for the prescribed securities pay in An investor who has sold to avoid any rejection of instructions due to data entry errors, network problems, etc.

• 3. Investment in GOLD ETF

III. INFORMATION ABOUT THE SCHEME

Kotak GOLD ETF

A. Type of the scheme:

An open ended gold exchange traded fund

B. What is the investment objective of the scheme?

The investment objective of the scheme is to generate returns that are in line with the returns on investment in physical gold, subject to tracking errors.

There is no assurance that the investment objective of the Scheme will be achieved.

Tracking Error

Tracking error means the variance between daily returns of the underlying benchmark (gold in this case) and the NAV of the scheme for any given period.

NAV of the Scheme is dependant on valuation of gold. Gold has to be valued based on the formula as per Gazette Notification dated December 20, 2006. NAV so computed may vary from the price of Gold in the domestic market.

Tracking error could be the result of a variety of factors including but not limited to:

- Delay in the purchase or sale of gold due to
  - Illiquidity of gold,
  - Delay in realisation of sale proceeds,
  - Creating a lot size to buy the required amount of gold
- The scheme may buy or sell the gold at different points of time during the trading session at the then prevailing prices which may not correspond to its closing prices.
- The potential for trades to fail, which may result in the Scheme not having acquired gold at a price necessary to track the benchmark price.
- The holding of a cash position and accrued income prior to distribution of income and payment of accrued expenses.
- Disinvestments to meet redemptions, recurring expenses, dividend payouts etc.
- Execution of large buy/sell orders
- Transaction cost (including taxes and insurance premium) and recurring expenses
- Realisation of Unit holders' funds

The scheme will endeavor to minimise the tracking error by

- Setting off of incremental subscriptions against redemptions,
- Rebalancing of the portfolio

C. How will the scheme allocate its assets?

The asset allocation under the Scheme, under normal circumstances, is as follows:

Investments	Indicative Allocation (% to net assets)	Risk Profile
Physical Gold	90% to 100%*	Low to Medium
Debt and money market instruments	0% to 10%	Low

* As the scheme invests 90% to 100% of the net assets into Gold, the scheme will, by and large, be passively managed fund. However, if and when the scheme is permitted to invest in gold related securities including derivatives, the scheme may become actively managed fund.

As per Regulation 43(4) of SEBI (Mutual Fund) Regulations, money collected under any gold exchange traded fund scheme shall be invested only in gold or gold related instruments in accordance with sub regulation (5) of Regulation 44. As per sub-regulation 44(5)(b), the funds of any gold exchange traded fund scheme shall be invested only in gold or gold related instruments in accordance with its investment objective, except to the extent necessary to meet the liquidity requirements for honouring repurchases or redemptions, as disclosed SAI. The Scheme will invest in physical gold of the prescribed quality and standard. As on date, SEBI has not permitted investment in gold related instruments.

The Scheme may retain some part of the cash or may invest in money market and debt instruments under the following conditions in addition to the reasons specified in Regulation 44(5)(b):

- Residual cash after buying gold in multiples of standard quantity in the market
- To meet recurring expenses for a reasonable period
- To meet redemption requirements of Authorised Participants and Large Investors.

Overview of Gold

Ever since Gold was discovered, it has captured the imaginations of craftsman and artisans. Not only is gold pleasing to the eye, but also its resistance to corrosion and malleability has made it an ideal metal for craftsmen to mold into pieces of adornment, as well as a symbol of wealth and power. As the ancient philosopher Pinder wrote nearly 3,000 years ago, "Gold is the child of Zeus, neither moth nor rust can devour it".

Gold also has a long history of being a store of value. Gold is primarily a monetary asset partly a commodity. More than two thirds of gold's total accumulated holdings account as 'value for investment' with central bank reserves, private players and high-carat Jewellery. Gold is considered to be a safe haven of value against inflation.

Gold as medium of exchange:

Gold's use as a medium of exchange predates the Roman Empire. The Chinese and Hindu cultures used Gold as the basis for their coinage.

In 1816, Great Britain adopted a gold-backed paper currency and the rest of the industrialized world shortly followed suit. Prior to 1934, the United States Dollar was equal to 1/20th of an ounce of gold, redeemable upon request. Except for a brief halt of conversions from dollars for Gold during World War II, the United States Dollar was backed by Gold under an agreement known as the Bretton Woods agreement. Under Bretton Woods, the United States Dollar, and other global currencies, were tied to a value of Gold. From 1934 to 1968, this amount was $35/oz of gold. To protect the amount of Gold held in reserve for protecting the dollar, it was illegal for United States citizens to own Gold prior to President Nixon's revocation of the Gold Standard. Upon revocation of the Gold Standard, Gold became a popular investment medium.

Gold Market, measure and FIX (pricing)

The Gold market is highly liquid and gold held by central banks, other major institutions and retail Jewelry keep coming back to the market.

The pureness of Gold is measured in terms of carats, with 24 carats being 99.99 percent pure. The most popular carat rankings of Gold are 18 and 14 carat pure, representing 75% and 58.3% pure, respectively. The most popular carat for jewelry in Europe is 18 and 14, as it is in the United States. In the Middle East, India, and South East Asia, where jewelry is used as much as an investment as it is for decoration, 22 carat is more popular. In these countries, 22 carat items usually sell at a marginal markup to the metal value (usually 10 to 20%). These items can be traded in or sold back to distributors at any time. England has, in recent years, begun manufacturing 9 carat jewelry items, while Portugal has a unique designation of 19.2 carats. Given that Gold demand is so closely tied to the jewelry industry, the fortunes of both industries tend to rise and fall in tandem.

Some mining companies refer to their output in terms of ounces. Others use the metric system. In general, gold is thought of in terms of the troy ounce, which takes its name from the old French city of Troyes, where there was a regular marketplace at which gold was traded.

London has been the center of Gold trading since the 17th century. The Australian Gold rush of 1852, and the discovery of Gold in South Africa in 1886, solidified London's grip on the Gold market as Gold from these locals channeled through London for refining and distribution. As a center for distribution of Gold, London began a method for disseminating the price of Gold known as the "Fix" in 1919. Held at N.M. Rothschild's at 10:30 am (Morning) and at 3:00pm (Afternoon) Fix. The Fix is a single price for Gold where the members, or Fixing Seat Holder's, match up their entire buy and sell orders. The price, at which the most buy and sell orders match, or balance, is known as the Fix. The strength of the fix is that a large volume of physical Gold can be bought or sold at a single, clearly posted price. The fix is a benchmark price for many transactions worldwide, whether for mines, fabricators or central banks, because it is undisputed prices at which all six of the largest Gold trading houses are willing to do business

Gold - Supply and holdings:

Gold is produced from mines on every continent with the exception of Antarctica (where mining is forbidden), in operations ranging from the tiny to the enormous. The best estimates available suggest that the total volume of gold mined over history is approximately 155,500 tones, of which around 64% has been mined since 1950.

The following are the world's largest producers of gold (based on the data for the year 2005):

Demand/ Consumption Considerations

1. Jewelry Fabrication: Jewelry fabrication is the crucial cornerstone of demand for this yellow metal. Since 1991, over 2,000 tonnes of Gold has been used annually in the production of jewelry. Gold for use in the jewelry industry accounts for roughly 54% of the total demand - an estimated 54.2 million ounces.

2. Industrial applications: Due to Gold's virtues of malleability, ductility, reflectivity, resistibility to corrosion and unparalleled ability as a thermal and electric conductor, Gold is used in a wide variety of industrial applications. The largest industrial user is the electronics industry. Gold is used in everything from microprocessors, semiconductors, integrated circuits, transistors, printed circuit boards, pocket calculators, washing machines, televisions, missiles and spacecraft. Japan and the United States are the largest industrial users of Gold, accounting for 45% and 30% of its industrial use, respectively.

3. Gold as investment: Gold as an investment or "hoarding" vehicle is the third largest component of demand. The concept of a bullion coin made by a government or in the form of small bars issued by banks and sold at a low premium to the base bullion amount, has endeared Gold as an investment vehicle for small investors. Together, the small bar and coin demand accounts between 100 and 200 tonnes of Gold on an annual basis.

Factors affecting gold prices:

- Central banks' sale: central banks across the world hold a part of their reserves in gold. The quantum of their sale in the market is one of the major determinants of gold prices. A higher supply than anticipated would lead to subdued gold prices and vice versa. Central banks buy gold to augment their existing reserves and to diversify from other asset classes. This acts as a support factor for gold prices
- Producer mining interest: Bringing new mines on-line is a time consuming and at times economically prohibitive process that adds years onto potential supply increases from mining production. On the other hand, lower production has a positive effect on gold prices. Conversely excessive production capacities would lead to a downward movement in gold prices as the supply goes up
- Macro-economic factors: A weakening dollar, high inflation, the massive US trade deficits all act in favor of gold prices. The global trend of rising interest rates also had a positive impact on gold prices. Gold being regarded as a physical asset would lose its luster in a deflationary environment as gold is used effectively as an inflation hedge
- Geo political issues: any uncertainty on the political front or any war-like situation always acts as a booster to gold prices. The prices start building up war premiums and hence such movements. Stable situations would typically mean stable gold prices
- Seasonal demand: Since the demand for Gold is closely tied to the production of jewelry, Gold prices tend to increase during the times of year when the demand for jewelry is the greatest. The seasons around Christmas, Mothers Day, Valentine's Day, summer wedding season in India, Deewali, Akshaya Trithya festival in India are all major shopping seasons and hence the demand for metals tends to be strong a few months ahead of these holidays. The second and third quarters are usually seasonally low with a relative absence of major gold giving occasions.

Gold in India

India is the largest consumer of gold in the world accounting for more than 23% of the total world demand annually. According to unofficial estimates, India has more than 13,000 tonnes of hoarded gold. Gold occupies a prominent part in rural Indian economy and a significant part of the rural credit market revolves around bullion as a security.

India being the largest consumer of gold in the world, with minimal domestic supply, the demand is met mainly from imports. According to Gold Field Minerals Service, in 2001 India absorbed around 700 tons from the world market, compared to 320 tons in 1994; that is without taking into account the recycling of scrap from the immense stock of close to 10,000 tones built up on the sub-continent in the last few hundred years, or gold imported for jewelry manufacture and reexport.

India is the world's largest gold jewellery market by volume accounting for around 590 tonnes of consumption demand in 2005. Traditionally gold is 22 carat. Gold jewellery buying is associated with a number of festivals and, in particular, with weddings. The gold given at weddings is important for women, as it traditionally remains her property. For festivals, Diwali is a traditional gold giving occasion. Dushera and Akshaya Tritya has become important festival in South India for purchase of gold.

A feature of Indian demand is its extreme sensitivity to price volatility - this is the country where price factor is of most importance in affecting gold demand.

Over half of demand comes from rural or rural town areas. Demand here is largely traditional. It is affected by incomes and thus the quality of the monsoon is important. In these areas gold is also important as a means of saving - a gold chain or bangle, which can be worn on the person, is considered a relatively safe way of storing wealth.

Gold market in India:

Banks in India sell gold in the form of small bars. Household investors buy gold in small bar forms as an investment. Gold for jewelry purposes is bought from the jewelers and artisans. There are a few bullion dealers who buy and sell gold in large quantities to and from jewelers.

Gold related instruments can be actively traded in India on the MCX as well as NCDEX exchanges. As per directions of the Forward Markets Commission, currently the trading timings are from 10.00 am to 11.30 pm Monday to Friday and from 10.00 am to 2.00 pm on Saturdays. On the expiry date, contracts expiring on that day will not be available for trading after 5 pm. The FMC however may vary these timings with due notice. The minimum amount that can be traded is 100 grams. (Source: Commodity seasonals.com. The data is obtained from this site and adapted/edited for the purpose of this document)

D. Where will the scheme invest

The Fund would invest in gold and endeavor to track the spot price of gold in domestic markets. Kotak Gold ETF will invest all of its funds, except to meet its liquidity requirements, in physical gold. The Fund may also invest in debt and money market instruments, in compliance with Regulations to meet liquidity and expense requirements.

E. What are the investment strategies?

Risk Control Measures for investment strategy

The Fund would invest in gold and endeavor to track the spot price of gold in domestic markets. Kotak Gold ETF will invest all of its funds, except to meet its liquidity requirements, in physical gold and to that extent follows a passive investment strategy.

Risk control measures for investment strategy

The scheme aims to track the domestic gold price of physical gold as closely as possible post expenses. Since fund manager risk is not relevant, the risk control measures for investment strategy pertain to managing operational risks focused on minimizing tracking error. Time-wise processes are well defined to enable efficient rebalancing of the portfolio and settlements with the Authorised Participants and Custodians.

Risk mitigation measures for portfolio volatility

ETF being a passive investment carries lesser risk as compared to active fund management. The portfolio follows the index and therefore the level of portfolio volatility would be the same as that of the index, subject to tracking error. Thus there is no additional element of volatility on account of fund manager decisions. The fund manager would endeavour to keep cash levels at the minimal to control tracking error.

Risk mitigation measures for managing liquidity

The scheme invests in physical gold bars which are approved by and satisfy the good delivery norms set out by London Bullion Market Association and are very widely accepted for the purpose of trading. Gold as a commodity is traded globally and thereby very liquid. The scheme buys and sells its gold from banks predominantly, which are big players in the gold market.

Portfolio Turnover

Portfolio Turnover is a term used to measure the volume of trading that occurs in a Scheme's portfolio (gold in this scheme) during a given time period. Kotak Gold ETF is an open-ended scheme. It is therefore expected that there would be a number of subscriptions and redemptions on a daily basis through Authorised participants and Large Investors that may require purchase or sale of gold. The Scheme is largely passive but transactions of Authorised Participants, Large Investors, sale of gold to meet expenses of the scheme and dividend payments may require the scheme to buy and sell gold.

Portfolio Turnover is defined as the aggregate of purchases and sales as a percentage of the corpus during the specified period of time.
